

Thursday, Sept. 6 and Friday September 7, 2012

7:00pm at Glenbard South

Michelle Garcia Winner Smart Phones | Diminishing Communicators: Teaching Social Thinking to Bridge the Digital Divide

The social mind—across cultures—encourages us all to seek inclusion in one or more societies. The internet has expanded social boundaries but is also minimizing the depth of our interpersonal communications. In our schools and our homes we take our kids' social development for granted. Is this leading us to inadvertently change the manner in which our children relate socially? Ms. Winner will explore: basic underpinnings of the social mind, and how we can teach our children the secrets of thinking socially and demonstrating empathy in this digital age.

*Registration required at www.casedupage.com

---